THE MANAGER DARRELL CLARKE

Good afternoon Robins fans and welcome back to the Completely-Suzuki Stadium for the visit of Wycombe Wanderers in Sky Bet League One action. I'd like to welcome the fans, staff and players from Wycombe to Cheltenham for today's game.

The last week has been a frustrating one with defeats to Bolton Wanderers and Derby County on the road. The Derby one especially as we were 1-0 up, with our gameplan working so well and we were frustrating the crowd.

But that's football, and we've managed to pick up three points from games against Portsmouth, Bolton and Derby. I thought the performances warranted more in those games, but we can't let ourselves become victims.

We have got back on the training pitch this week, aiming to get better at the things we aren't doing well, which is still a lot of areas. The group are fighting and the application is good but the game is all about narrow margins.

The lads have been first class and fantastic since I've been in the building. I just want them to get better and keep fighting and scrapping like we are. We've got 19 games to go and we need to give ourselves a platform to get out of this bottom four starting with the game this afternoon.

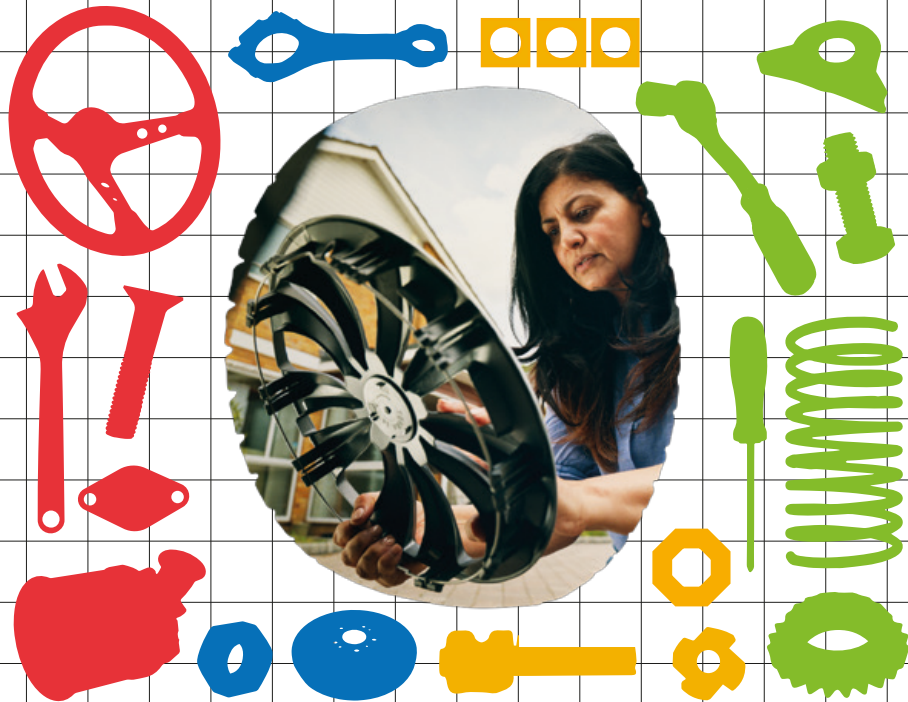

Thank you for your fantastic support of the team and I hope you enjoy the game.

COYR
Darrell

DIRECTOR MURRY TOMS

Welcome to our guests from Wycombe Wanderers, a club I have long admired for the work they do away from the pitch as much as their achievements on it. Our games are rarely dull and I expect another rollercoaster this afternoon.

From my perspective there are few better in the game than Matt Cecil, their head of media. For more than a decade he has established a fantastic culture of creativity and innovation at Adams Park, something I want us to aspire to.

Here we are very lucky to have a small but committed team, ensuring this place is at its very best for matchdays. For example 'Ticket' Tim Nicholls is overseeing one of the most exciting areas of the business, improving the matchday experience through the digital transformation of our ticketing in the past 18 months.

Meanwhile Luke Saunders and Nick Elliott combine brilliantly to fulfil our commercial commitments, bringing a huge amount of experience and know-how to the way we work with our partners and deliver value.

James Williams joined the media team in the summer and has done a phenomenal job in some of the most challenging circumstances I've seen in some time. The same goes for Kaylene Isherwood, our marketing supremo. How we communicate with supporters is a challenge in itself but we have made strides in recent times. One development is our new one-to-many broadcast channel on WhatsApp which almost 5,000 fans have taken up. Give it a follow if you haven't already.

Then there's Chloe Ferns - granddaughter of playing legend Willie - who joined the accounts and procurement team a couple of months ago and is a breath of fresh air. Together they make this place tick and on behalf of everyone, I'd like to say thank you.

It's not easy for them when the results aren't going our way. The pressure is high and the work relentless so it's important to acknowledge that. There are so many people across the operation that go above and beyond for the cause and they make this a special club to be part of.

Because of that it does great things. Our campaign this season to promote the work of Child Poverty Action Group alongside our principal partners at Mira Showers has engaged nearly 1,200 local school children from 60 schools around the county. It's something we're very proud of.

We will soon be launching the auction of the unique, match-worn shirts and will shortly release the details about a prize draw to win George Lloyd's, who grabbed the two goals in the game against Shrewsbury Town on Boxing Day. It will give everyone a chance to win the keepsake and in total we should raise in excess of £10,000 for the charity. That's some effort all round.

And speaking of George [angry emoji]. It remains staggering that despite our torrid run of bad luck we can travel to a couple of former Premier League clubs inside five days and come away depressed on both occasions, not to have taken points. Those fans at Bolton and Derby were nothing short of sensational and deserved the opportunity to see that goal given and penalty taken.

Regardless, those are the occasions we want to be part of next season. That's what every single one of us here is fighting for. For another slice of history and that fourth consecutive season in League One. I have no doubt we can do that but we've got to stick together. That's what we do best. Keep the faith!

Murry Toms

MATCHDAY PARTY: SOUTHSIDE WILDCATS U10s

Southside Wildcats U10s are in their second year as a team and what a journey it has been.

They have really embraced the Southside Star ethos of the importance of teamwork, friendship and developing key life skills such as communication, coping with disappointment and of course, celebrating success!

Safe to say, we have had a bit of everything! Our first year was a rollercoaster, getting to know each other as players and experiencing wins and losses alike. Tim Waltho (manager) and Federico Hale-Perez (coach) state: 'The players have really focused on putting their training into practice, resulting in them winning the league this last season, so we are here at Cheltenham Town FC to celebrate their commitment and resilience!'

MATCHDAY PARTY: LAKESIDE REDS U11s

Lakeside Reds were formed three years ago when the club had to split the U9s into three teams because of such big numbers - from there the Blues, Whites and Reds were born.

This young team have gone from strength to strength, playing in two cup finals in the last two seasons (won one, lost one) and being in the semi-final for what is hopefully a third final in a row.

We have some great footballers and all round athletes, we have players who represent Cheltenham schools, Cheltenham Town Development as well as a couple who represent the county at cricket.

Thank you to Cheltenham Town for having us this afternoon, thank you to our sponsor and our future sponsors and finally, thank you to our parents.

“The lads are at it with a real high intensity and that’s something I wanted to come into, where everyone is buying into what the manager is doing”

JOSH HARROP

From growing up at Manchester United to arriving at Cheltenham Town, midfielder Josh Harrop is ready to write the next chapter in his career.

The Englishman became the first January addition to the Robins’ ranks a few weeks ago after a successful trial period under the watchful eye of manager Darrell Clarke.

“It’s a great opportunity for me and I’m glad to finally get the deal signed,” said Harrop upon joining Town.

“I’ve had a couple of weeks training here to show what I’m about and I feel like I’ve settled in quite well and got to know the lads and the gaffer has been great with me.”

Clarke played a pivotal role in the addition of the former England U20s international to the squad and Harrop now has his sights set on repaying the faith shown in him.

“He wanted me to come in to see how fit I was and to see if I was up to speed,” Josh continued.

“I’ve been working really hard since I’ve become a free agent and I’ve come in to show that and he’s seen what I’m about and given me the opportunity to sign.”

Having spent his time on trial at the club, the midfielder admitted the environment Clarke and his staff have created is exactly what he was looking for in his next club.

“I’ve trained here now for two weeks and seen the level and it is a good level of training.

“The lads are at it with a real high intensity and that’s something I wanted to come into, where everyone is buying into what the manager is doing and I feel like that’s what they’ve got here.”

Fellow midfielder Tom Pett also joined the Robins this season after spending time as a free agent and Harrop is proud to have overcome that hurdle.

“It was a difficult period. I’ve played football since I was six years old and it gets taken away for a little bit of time.

“It’s not easy but you’ve got to stay motivated and keep training so when your opportunity comes, you’re ready to go and I’ve done that.”

The 28-year-old’s time in football has had its highs and lows, with a goal on his Premier League debut for Manchester United a clear highlight.

He’s since featured for Preston North End, Ipswich Town, Fleetwood Town and Northampton, where he has forged himself as a creative threat in the heart of the pitch with a skillset suitable for thriving at the top level.

“I can be a number eight, a number 10 or play through the middle. I like to get on the ball, hit the box, score goals and pop up with assists as well.”

Josh arrives at a time where the Robins’ plight is well-documented with a long and arduous battle for survival ahead of them, but Harrop is ready to be called upon.

“I’m here to give the most for this club, give everything I can and hopefully I can contribute to keeping the club in the league.”

RECYCLING PROJECT

The club are continuing to improve our environmental credentials and the next step of that is to recycle much more of our match day waste.

From this Saturday new bins for dry mixed recycling (labelled accordingly for metal, plastic, cardboard, paper) will be placed around the ground.

We are asking all home and away supporters to recycle at the Completely-Suzuki Stadium and help us to achieve improvements in this key area.

WYCOMBE WANDERERS

As February rolls around, the Chairboys find themselves sat in 19th in the third tier of English football. Sixth in the 2021/22 season and ninth in 2022/23 preceded the current campaign after a year spent in the Championship under club legend Gareth Ainsworth. In his shoes stepped Bloomfield, another name written in the club's folklore.

The season kicked off in impressive fashion with six wins from their opening 11 games but the following 17 have only resulted in one more success, that coming against Bristol Rovers on New Year's Day. Consequently, a spot four points above the drop zone is where Wycombe sit, sticking to the rollercoaster nature of the club in the past decade that saw them avoid relegation to non-league on goal difference in 2013/14 before the impressive rebound to the Championship during the Covid-19 pandemic.

Meetings with the Robins have resulted in goal fests of late with the infamous 5-5 draw at Adams Park in 2022 the standout result. Last term saw the Chairboys fall the wrong side of 1-0 and 3-0 scorelines with the latter coming in the early months of Bloomfield's tenure.

One player he will be counting on to avenge that defeat is former Shrewsbury Town man Luke Leahy who has seven goals and six assists to his name in league action this term. Their squad also includes loan striker Dale Taylor, who has four goals to his name, whilst the experienced duo of 34-year-old Sam Vokes and 36-year-old Garath McCleary have also been prolific in the club's goalscoring and creativity charts.

At the back Ryan Tafazolli and Joe Low have forged a regular partnership with Bristol City loanee Low having three goals of his own to his name and acting as an aerial presence in both boxes.

In 2021, a group of passionate women fans felt mobilised to start a campaign called #HerGameToo.

The campaign is committed to fostering an ethos in football where women are welcomed and respected equally and can be confident sharing their opinions about football online and in person without fear of sexist abuse. This afternoon, we introduce two new advocates to the cause.

Cheltenham Town's Her Game Too ambassador, Kelly-Marie Selby, tells us: "Growing up loving football, it was so sad that not only did girls not have the opportunities that boys had to further their abilities, but trying to voice my opinion was almost impossible. As soon as I tried to express any views I was told I was a girl, I didn't know anything about football, and I should just concentrate on make up and being a girl."

"The younger me shied away from fighting, but as I got older, I knew this wasn't right and that I should be allowed to join in on conversations about football. So when the opportunity came to become an ambassador of an amazing campaign to empower women to have a voice without fear, I put myself forward. Over the past few months I've been ambassador for Her Game Too Cheltenham, and this has now grown with three incredible ladies coming on board - Mary Stone, Taz Scoles and Emily Moore.

"Together, we want to help create an environment at The Completely-Suzuki Stadium where women of all ages can feel welcome and safe without fear of sexism and misogyny, knowing there are avenues to report such incidents."

Introducing themselves, Taz explained: "53 years ago the ban of woman playing football was finally lifted, and now we are seeing woman on the big screens influencing the new generation. Her Game Too brings awareness to the struggles woman players and fans may face and how we can eliminate it. I am so excited to work alongside Her Game Too to raise more awareness and inspire the younger generations."

Alongside Taz and Kelly-Marie, Mary reflected on what the campaign is for her: "Her Game Too means being able to go and watch football games wherever I want, whenever I want, without being made uncomfortable. In the short space of time I've been involved with this group, I've been connected with so many female football friends, like Kelly and Taz, and sharing our experiences together shows exactly why we're doing what we're doing.

"I'd encourage everyone to find a way to get involved with Her Game Too, it could be through doing something so simple as wearing our badge or taking a more front facing role in tackling sexism in football."
