ASSISTANT MANAGER IAN BARACLOUGH

Good evening Robins fans and welcome back to the Completely-Suzuki Stadium for the first of two home games for us this week. I'd like to welcome the fans, staff and players from Blackpool to Cheltenham for tonight's game.

Saturday was massive for us and a great reaction after the defeats against Bolton, Derby and Wycombe. In the first two, there was probably no expectation on us but we felt coming away from them that we should've had three if not six points. Then Wycombe we let ourselves down and our levels weren't where they should've been.

But Saturday saw us bounce back really well. Matty Taylor is already showing why he is in the building. The winner on Saturday was a great finish. His appetite to score goals is still burning and he's also been great around the younger ones.

Being able to give moments like that to you, the fans, is what you deserve after travelling the distance to away games of late. You want your fans to really enjoy what you're doing and hopefully those who came to Cambridge left with a smile on their face.

That has given us a platform now ahead of tonight's game and Saturday's against Port Vale. We are targeting nine points from this block of games but we know it will be a real tough game this evening. They're going for promotion and have some good players but we've got one or two coming back in the building which will only make us stronger.

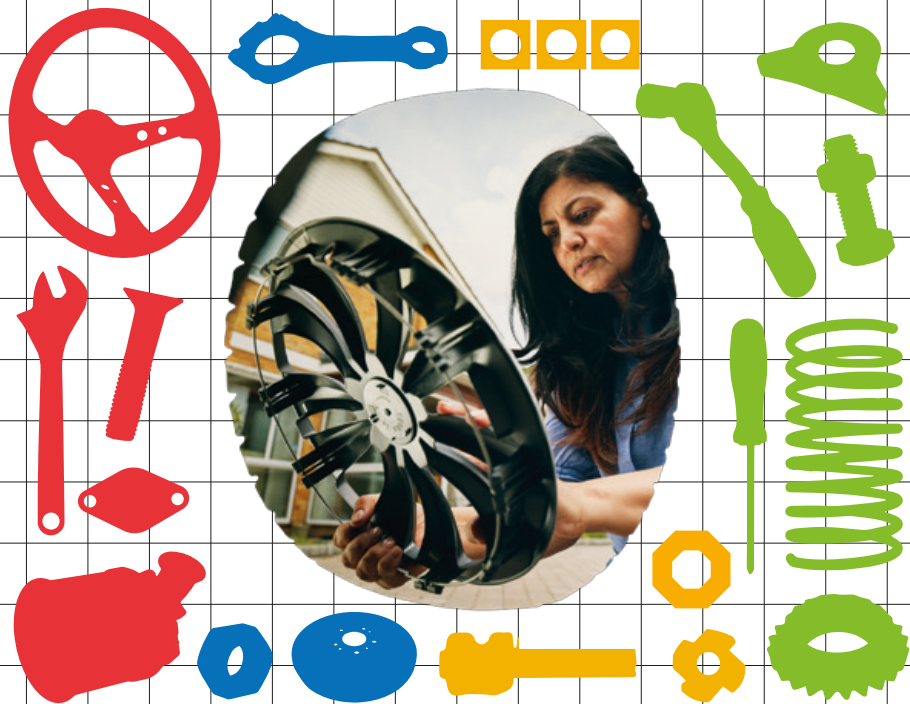

Thank you for your fantastic support of the team and I hope you enjoy the game.

“There’s 17 really important games left and we’ve got to be all in together, push and get as many points as possible”

MATTY TAYLOR

Matty Taylor’s latest stop on his EFL journey has seen him arrive at Cheltenham Town with his goalscoring hunger as great as ever.

The striker was the Robins’ first of four Deadline Day additions in a frantic end to the January transfer window a few weeks ago.

“I’m really glad to finally get it done,” said Taylor after signing on the dotted line.

“It’s been a long day but I’m looking forward to meeting the boys and getting going.”

Taylor has moved on Deadline Day three times during his career and the move to Town will also be the third time he has worked under manager Darrell Clarke.

“We go back a long way now,” Taylor added.

“You know his qualities and I’m sure everyone does by now. He’s a brilliant person first and foremost and a very good manager. He’s got the best out of me before and hopefully I can add to that tally here.”

The prolific forward netted 68 times for Bristol Rovers and a further 64 for Oxford United including 22 goals in the 2021/22 season.

Goals were hard to come by in the early months of the season at Forest Green Rovers but Taylor has found the net in both of his Robins’ appearances so far and he’s ready to do whatever is asked of him.

“I’ll be looking to help score goals and help give advice. Obviously I’ll work hard and we want to win games and climb the table. Anything I can do to help the team, that’s what I will be doing.”

Past experiences of playing at the Completely-Suzuki Stadium have helped him settle into his new environment and having the opportunity to play regularly in front of the Robins faithful is one Taylor is relishing.

“I’m really looking forward to it. Whenever I’ve played here before it is a really good atmosphere, the pitch is really tight and you feel like you’re in a right game.”

His career highlights have seen him score against Manchester City in the Carabao Cup as well as assisting a winning goal against Manchester United in the same competition. Now his focus is on a much different task, keeping the Robins in League One.

REMEMBERING STEPHEN GOBEY

Everyone at Cheltenham Town was deeply saddened to hear about the passing of Stephen Gobey, who sadly passed away last month at the age of 88. He was a Robins season ticket holder for most of his life and inspired his daughter and grandson to follow the club, also making many friends when travelling to away matches over the years. Rest in peace, Stephen.

A selection of Cheltenham Town match-worn community third shirts from the Boxing Day victory against Shrewsbury Town are now up for auction.

Thanks once again to our friends at AMS Auctions for hosting, you can create an account and bid on the 15 limited-edition shirts.

Launched back in October, we invited the young supporters of the club to design our new community third kit, raising awareness and funding for the Child Poverty Action Group, who were the chosen charity of the club's Principal Partners, Mira Showers.

Over 1,200 local children from 60 schools sent in their designs, with six-year-old Ruby Barnes winning after Robins manager Darrell Clarke picked her excellent black and pink kit.

15 of the outfielder shirts worn by those in the matchday squad from the 2-0 victory against Salop are available to bid for starting from £100 each, with all proceeds go to the Child Poverty Action Group.

The auction will close after our home match against Port Vale on Saturday, February 17th.

Supporters will also be able to get their hands on the match-worn shorts from the game, which are on sale now in the club shop.

2022/23
23rd, Championship

Blackpool are another club in League One looking to reach past heights and they are staging a promotion push under Neil Critchley.

The Tangerines' two-year spell in the Championship was curtailed at the end of last season with Critchley returning to the club after departing in October of the last term. He has steered the club to eighth spot, six points outside of the coveted play-off spots. The club has a rich history in the play-offs after they became the first team to gain promotion from every division of the Football League from the play-offs upon their ascent into the Premier League in 2010.

However, a recent stumble has dented their play-off aspirations for the 2023/24 campaign. Critchley's men are winless in three league games and only have four wins from their last 10 in the league after Saturday's 1-1 draw with fellow high flyers Oxford United. Their home form is a huge reason behind their success with 10 of their 13 wins coming at Bloomfield Road including the entertaining 3-2 success over today's opponents back in October. And whilst they have enjoyed victories on their travels against Barnsley and Portsmouth, Bristol Rovers are the only other side to have been defeated on their own patch by Blackpool.

That is a stat the side will be desperate to change under the lights at the Completely-Suzuki Stadium, a place where they drew 2-2 on their last visit back in 2016. Whether top goalscorer and the fourth best marksman in the league, Jordan Rhodes, is available remains to be seen but the seventh best scorers in the division aren't short on options to step into the Englishman's shoes.

Karamoko Dembele scored in the reverse fixture against the Robins and has four further strikes to his name as well as turning provider on nine occasions too. Alongside him, fellow forwards Jake Beesley, CJ Hamilton, Kyle Joseph and Shayne Lavery all pose goal threats leaving Critchley and his staff spoilt for choice. Behind them midfielder Albie Morgan provides a goal threat of his own whilst centre-back

GAME TOO

IT'S | GAME #HERGAMETO

In 2021, a group of passionate women fans felt mobilised to start a campaign called #HerGameToo.

The campaign is committed to fostering an ethos in football where women are welcomed and respected equally and can be confident sharing their opinions about football online and in person without fear of sexist abuse. This afternoon, we introduce two new advocates to the cause.

Cheltenham Town's Her Game Too ambassador, Kelly-Marie Selby, tells us: "Growing up loving football, it was so sad that not only did girls not have the opportunities that boys had to further their abilities, but trying to voice my opinion was almost impossible. As soon as I tried to express any views I was told I was a girl, I didn't know anything about football, and I should just concentrate on make up and being a girl.

"The younger me shied away from fighting, but as I got older, I knew this wasn't right and that I should be allowed to join in on conversations about football. So when the opportunity came to become an ambassador of an amazing campaign to empower women to have a voice without fear, I put myself forward. Over the past few months I've been ambassador for Her Game Too Cheltenham, and this has now grown with three incredible ladies coming on board - Mary Stone, Taz Scoles and Emily Moore.

"Together, we want to help create an environment at The Completely-Suzuki Stadium where women of all ages can feel welcome and safe without fear of sexism and misogyny, knowing there are avenues to report such incidents."

Introducing themselves, Taz explained: "53 years ago the ban of woman playing football was finally lifted, and now we are seeing woman on the big screens influencing the new generation. Her Game Too brings awareness to the struggles woman players and fans may face and how we can eliminate it. I am so excited to work alongside Her Game Too to raise more awareness and inspire the younger generations."

Alongside Taz and Kelly-Marie, Mary reflected on what the campaign is for her: "Her Game Too means being able to go and watch football games wherever I want, whenever I want, without being made uncomfortable. In the short space of time I've been involved with this group, I've connected with so many female football friends, like Kelly and Taz, and sharing our experiences together shows exactly why we're doing what we're doing.

"I'd encourage everyone to find a way to get involved with Her Game Too, it could be through doing something so simple as wearing our badge or taking a more front facing role in tackling sexism in football."
