THE MANAGER DARRELL CLARKE

“Our focus now over such a busy period is to keep working hard with the group, keep trying to claw teams back to us and keep finding ways to win games”

Hello again Robins fans and welcome back to the Completely-Suzuki Stadium for the visit of Leyton Orient to Cheltenham this afternoon. I'd also like to welcome the Orient staff, fans and players who have travelled from London to Gloucestershire today.

The changing room was really disappointed that we hadn't won the game last Saturday, and that was really pleasing for myself and the coaches. It was a game of two halves for sure, but I think on the balance of things a draw was a fair result and it was a well-earned point.

Four points from the last three tough games we have had is really pleasing but now we keep on going. Our focus now over such a busy period is to keep working hard with the group, keep trying to claw teams back to us and keep finding ways to win games.

Looking at today's match and we welcome another tough opposition in Leyton Orient. Richie and his team have settled well back in the league and look strong. But as I said previously we've matched some top teams and we've made the team competitive once again. It's going to be another challenge but one we're going into full of confidence.

Thank you once again for your support for myself and the team and I hope you enjoy today's game.

COYR
Darrell

CHAIRMAN DAVID BLOXHAM

A very warm and festive welcome to the directors, players, staff and fans of Leyton Orient to the Completely-Suzuki Stadium for our final home league match before Christmas. I hope that you have all had a good journey to Cheltenham and that the traffic conditions are favourable for your return home.

December is a busy and extremely important time in the league calendar with additional fixtures occurring during the holiday period.

Cheltenham have five very important fixtures during December with the start of that sequence having been our away game at Bristol Rovers last Saturday which ended in a creditable 1-1 draw against a strong Rovers side.

Inclusive of today's fixture, we face three home games and one long away trip to Carlisle before the end of the year.

We currently sit at the foot of the League One table with 13 points being a total that I think many of us would have been willing to accept after our first 11 games. Since that initial winless run, our form has improved resulting in us score more goals and picking up valuable points. We have a very long way to go to try and preserve our third tier status but as things stand we have closed the gap a little on a group of teams above us and have hope of being able to catch and overtake them before the end of the season.

I know that Darrell and all his

Your support will continue to be vital this season coaching team and players are working incredibly hard to achieve results on the pitch and improve our current league position. I should like to take this opportunity to thank all the staff and players for the effort and commitment that they have put in since Darrell's arrival at the club.

It is great to see Leyton Orient back at the Completely-Suzuki Stadium following their promotion as League Two champions last season. Over the years we have had many exciting fixtures against the O's. I am sure that this afternoon's match will be a very close and competitive fixture which both teams will be striving to win.

I wish both sets of fans a very happy Christmas. I should particularly like to thank the Cheltenham Town fans for their continued support over the season to date. Your magnificent support will be vital if we are, as a club, going to achieve what many people considered to be impossible after 12 games and retain our League One status this season. I therefore ask that you continue to support the team as vocally and enthusiastically at as many games as you can attend both home and away, not only over the Christmas period but for the rest of the season. If we continue to work together and support the whole team I am very hopeful that we can achieve our aim.

Wishing you all a very Merry Christmas.

COYR,
David

LIAM SERCOMBE

Serco we're sitting down for what is quite a special achievement for you as on Saturday afternoon, at one of your former clubs, you hit 650 career appearances which is something you probably didn't think you would've got when you were younger but what an achievement it is.

It's a proud moment of mine. I like to keep track of my appearances because that's what I've worked my whole life for. I love playing and every game you play you want to make the most of it. Everyone knows football is a short career and I like to keep track of how many games I play and to hit that Saturday was a big moment.

Take it right back to the start you're an Exeter lad, you came through the ranks there and eventually made your debut in the first team in the National League. What do you remember of those times back at Exeter and making your debut there?

I remember my debut was Altrincham away. I had a great start to my career, I was 17 years old and we were in the Conference. I remember there was a few injuries and I was on the bench then Andy Taylor went down in the seventh or eighth minute. Paul Tisdale at the time was the manager and he said you're going on. I didn't even know I was going to come on but it happened so early on that I didn't have time to think really and went straight on. I think we won the game 4-1 and from then I played the next game and got knocked out after 20 minutes going up for a header. I made seven or eight appearances that season but then we went to Wembley and beat Cambridge 1-0 to go up to League Two. I played about 30 games that next season and we got promoted again straight away. Within my first two seasons, I was coming off the back of two promotions and being in League One at my hometown club.

You then moved onto Oxford. The 15/16 season in particular I think it was 21 goal contributions in the league that season. Do you think that was the best season you've had in your career?

I think footballing wise, our team in League Two that we put together was unreal. I could go through a few players in that team now and there is a lot of them that went on to play in the Premier League. How we managed to get that team in League Two was unreal. It was a joke to play in. I scored 17 from a 4-4-2 playing in midfield with John Lundstram, who's now at Rangers, and footballing wise that was probably my best season. Me and John had a great relationship and how we worked. He knew what I wanted to do, and it worked. We had a great team.

We've seen your youngest lad Monty coming out with you onto the pitch here and going back to your time at Oxford that was where your oldest lad for the first time was able to come out with you, how important has it been to have your family near you throughout your career?

It's another thing I like to do with my boys because my oldest, George, was young when I was at Oxford and he liked to come out with me. He's nine years old but he's grown out of that a bit now and doesn't want to do that. But now doing it now with my youngest boy Monty who I'm sure everyone sees him doing it every home game. He loves his football. I like doing that because another reason why I work so hard in my career is for my family, my boys and my wife so I like to make them proud and that's what I want to keep doing and I've got plenty left.

After Oxford it was onto Rovers where you met a certain someone called Darrell Clarke. What were your first impressions of meeting Darrell when you were at Rovers?

Exactly the same as he is now. I remember I had a falling out at Oxford so it was time for me to move on. Darrell was the manager at Bristol Rovers and he wanted to meet me and sign me. As soon as they came in and I met him it was the easiest choice to make and I think this is why anyone I speak to I say Bristol Rovers was one of my most happiest times in football. I still live in Bristol now and I've got a lot to thank them for. With us as a family settled now in Bristol and if it wasn't for signing for them, I wouldn't be there. My family is happy and we will be there forever now. Darrell is a proper manager, a great man manager that you hear a lot and made my time so enjoyable at Bristol Rovers and like he's doing now here.

We come to your move here to Cheltenham. That first season was something special, wasn't it?

It was. I was 30 and it was after COVID. I was settled in Bristol so Cheltenham came in for me and they were onto my agent quite a lot. In football it is another thing, you always want to feel wanted and it's a big thing because you're confident straight away and it shows how much they like you. I remember Micky Moore was onto my agent a lot then I came up and met Michael Duff and it went from there. That first season was unreal getting another promotion. It is one of the best things in football. It's my fourth season now and I'm loving every minute of it.

You made your debut against Peterborough in the EFL Cup and scored the winner in that game. It was early on in the season and it was behind closed doors with no fans but was there that feeling between everyone that there could be something special happening?

100%. We had a really good squad for League Two and we had just missed out the year before. That group was still close together and we added a few players here and there and made it a little bit better. I remember in the meeting before the start of that season, the aim was to use the previous year as fuel and try and go and do it that year.

Every game we were going into, we were confident of winning and it was unreal to go up as champions. It's my one and only time of winning a league and it was some feeling.

It's been a tricky start to this season but the goal remains the same, to keep this club in the third tier for the fourth season in a row, the first time it's ever been done. With you being here since that first season, how much would it mean to you and how big would it be for your career to be able to say you've been a part of that whole journey?

It would be massive. We had a real tough start to the season which we all take responsibility for. It's one of them things but now we all have the same goal and ever since the gaffer has come in we have put a marker on how many wins we need and what we're going for to make that history. Staying in the league, we want to make this history and to be a part of all of that would be big and I'd love to be a part of it.

MATCHDAY PARTY: CHARLTON ROVERS U11s REDS & BLUES

Since 1976, Charlton Rovers has been the community club for the Charlton Kings parish of Cheltenham.

The club has raised its game in recent years, opening a ground at Shipton Oliffe, including a new clubhouse and community space opened by Sir Geoff Hurst in 2022. The club is dedicated to a sustainable and eco-friendly future; it is currently fundraising to install solar panels and is looking for local investors.

Like all Rovers age groups, the U11s are a vibrant bunch of 45 players in three teams of all abilities. They are drawn mostly from schools in Charlton Kings but come from as far afield as Coberley and Churchdown. Recent successes include winning their age group at the Longlevens AFC Festival of Football 2023, and one team has just gained promotion to the top division of the Cheltenham Youth Football League. If you're interested in player opportunities or sponsorship please visit www.charltonrovers.co.uk.

MATCHDAY PARTY: HARDWICKE RANGERS U10s

Hardwicke Rangers U10s Colts have had a slightly rocky start to the season but have coped immensely well on and off the field and show true passion and heart while wearing the shirt.

Last season the team had a massive individual and team growth, and as such we are incredibly proud to have players selected to play Development and Academy football - Lily Cole has been selected for Forest Green Rovers.

At Cheltenham Town we have Harry Sealey, Archie Turner, Nolan Manhiri and Henry Hann, and by no means last, George James and Harrison Hawes are/were training with Glos Keepers Development Academy.

With the changes the above has brought, the core of the team has done so well - the sturdy James Wookey in defence, our captain Freddie Portlock in CM, pocket rocket Ruby Curran on the wing, our newest signing Caia Cook bossing the boys, Ollie "Never Stops Running" Norman giving everything and the big man up front, Finton Wicks. A big shout out to a lad new to football too, Lucas Powell.

Lastly, a big thank you to our sponsors

AOC Flooring, T.H. Norman Agricultural Contracting & Creations in Vinyl. As coaches we are incredibly proud of each of you on and off the pitch, keep it going "Hardwicke on 3"

2022/23
1st, League Two

From relegation to the National League in 2016/17, Leyton Orient are a club on the rise and are now looking to consolidate themselves again in the third tier of English football.

Dropping out of the Football League has a detrimental effect on any football club and some have never recovered but Orient are one club who can stake claim to the fact they have rebounded and now find themselves back in League One.

Last time they were at this level, they came within a penalty shootout of promotion to the Championship before their nine year stint was curtailed the following year. Another relegation followed two seasons later before the late Justin Edinburgh was appointed and steered them back up the treacherous slope into League Two.

Fast forward to the present and Richie Wellens is now at the helm for the O's. His team picked up five wins from their opening 12 league games. However, fortunes have since turned with no wins since defeating Carlisle United on October 14th with their only success coming against the same opposition in the FA

Cup. Consequently, the London based club sit in 16th place going into the festive period and arrive at the Completely-Suzuki Stadium nine points above Cheltenham Town having played a game more.

The O's squad boasts a forward line in goalscoring form this term with winger Ruel Sotiriou leading the way with seven goals at the club he's called home for many years. Strikers Joe Pigott and Shaq Forde have four and three goals respectively.

Moving back down the pitch and the talented names continue with midfielder Ethan Galbraith on loan from Manchester United and Idris El Mizouni, a member of last season's title winning squad returning for a second loan spell at the club.

Complimenting the youth in the midfield ranks is club captain Darren Pratley in his 21st year as a professional.

Behind them is the key figure at right back of Tom James, who played 46 times last term and had his own mini goal of the season competition and goalkeeper Sol Brynn, who earned lots of plaudits for his performances on loan at Wellens' former club Swindon Town last season.

#HER

IT'S #HERGAMETOO

GET TO KNOW YOUR HER GAME TOO AMBASSADOR

KELLY-MARIE SELBY

What made you decide to join Her Game Too?

Growing up as a football-mad little girl, into my teenage years I was told so many times you can't play football as you're a girl, you're not good enough. Or even sillier - you're just a girl, you can't like football, you have to like girly things. It made me feel so sad that I couldn't do something I liked.

Move forward to older me, I started to go to the pub to watch the football, going to my first live match at Villa Park and comments started almost instantly! "Why are you here? You don't know anything about football, why are you even chirping up?! Go home and do what women are supposed to do - cook and clean." Being the strong woman I am, I always bit back and never backed down, I often found I had a little more in my comments that confused most men that soon made them realise this girl does know about football and she has every right to comment on the beautiful game.

Again, fast-forward to March 2023 when Cheltenham advertised the opportunity to become an ambassador for Her Game Too. It took me all of 30 seconds to apply because I knew this was exactly what I wanted to do - empower women in football, encourage girls to come to their first football match and feel safe and shine a light on how sexism in football is rife and needs to be as punishable as homophobia and racism. I want to be a part of change and this is the best way to do it, we are already making so many positive changes at Cheltenham and I'm so proud to be working so closely with the club themselves, the Community Trust and the Robins Trust to make these changes possible.

Any fun facts about yourself?

I love to sing, I've done many shows in the past with Evesham Operatic and Dramatic Society including Oliver!, Jesus Christ Superstar and many spotlight shows. You can always guarantee I'll be up on a karaoke, too!

I've done many things for charity, including a 10,000ft sky dive, a fire walk and a wing walk which was definitely my favourite by far.

I just want to say a massive WELL DONE to Cheltenham Town Ladies who reached the third round of the Adobe Women's FA Cup this year, watching the team for a lot of their home and away games has been incredible and I'm really looking forward to some more exciting games at Kayte Lane next year! You really should get yourself down to a game and support the Robinesses!
